Have You Bought Your Ticket For The JUNIOR PROM Friday?

Chips

All good things must come to an end, it seems; even Spring Vacation. That evil hour which seemed so blissfully distant last Saturday, loomed large with Monday morning's seven-thirty alarm.

Brushing a week's accumulation of dust of those outside reading books Shorty Mason let us take out over the holidays, we caught a 26th and G Street car and arrived just late enough to merit a particularly eloquent look from the Prof.

The busiest men during vacation were the members of the Glee Club, who spent most of their time climbing in and out of tuxs in preparation for their three-day appearances at the Earle. Their act was the only bright spot in a decidedly mediocre bill, but was sufficiently entertaining to compensate for the rest of the performance.

Victor Koch, of the Glee Club, reports that there were people standing at every show—the ushers.

Those who set the date for the Junior Prom did not bear in mind certain pecuniary disabilities which are certain to obtain around the 29th of the month. If your credit is good, or if you have any valuables which may be converted into legal tender at the south end of Highway Bridge, you may spend a pleasant, if not profitable evening at the Willard this Friday night.

The ladies are all worked up over a proposition for student government. They refer impressively to eligibility rules, social regulations, honor systems, point systems, and the rest; altogether a weighty problem. They blithely announce as their purpose "the distribution of class duties and the honors of college life." Presumably, all that remains for the other half is to sit back and accept these duties and honors as doled out by the Women's League.

The Student Advisory Committee has something to offer in the way of a point system to grade student activities according to their relative importance. The only flaw in such a system is the inalienable right of each student to consider his particular pet activity the most important and indispensable of the lot.

Try to convince a Hatchet editor, for instance, that there is any reason whatsoever for the existence of dramatics, or a football man that debaters should be allowed to survive and multiply.

With the presentation of "Britannicus" by the Dionysians last night, the Dramatic Festival draws near the close. The contrast between the size of the audiences drawn by "Caesar and Cleopatra" and "Britannicus," and the statement of the Troubadours that 800 tickets have already been sold for "Not Yet, Fleurette," is sufficient commentary on the dramatic taste of the college audience.

Everyone is glad to learn that the Kappa Delta's now have two legs on the bowling cup; also that the sorority goats in the Interclass Track and Field meet "showed excellent form."

Why not dispense with future co-ed athletic competitions until after Leah Cate has been graduated? Her winning of the women's high point cup is becoming almost a habit.

The University Afloat announces that on its Second College Cruise Round the World, co-eds will be not only unwelcome, but positively prohibited. On the other hand, the Floating University, which is under different management, solicits co-eds. Or perhaps it's the other way around. At any rate, university cruises are all at sea over the question of including feminine passengers.

JUNIOR PROM IS OUTSTANDING OF SOCIETY EVENTS

To Take Place In Hall of Nations Ballroom of Washington Hotel

TICKETS NOW ON SALE; FAVORS WILL BE GIVEN

Moe Baer's Eleven-piece Virginia Beach Hotel Orchestra to Furnish Music

At ten o'clock Friday night, April 29, the Virginia Beach Hotel Orchestra will begin their first selection of dance music, and the Junior Prom will be under way. The Hall of Nations ballroom at the Hotel Washington has been decorated for the occasion, and everything indicates a huge success for this year's Prom.

The orchestra, with the addition of several musicians who bring the total to eleven pieces, is the same organization which has been so popular at the Wardman Park Hotel during the past season. Among this group will be three soloists, who will entertain with novelty acts. Moe Baer, the leader, states that his orchestra will introduce six popular song numbers, which have never before been heard in Washington.

Brown's Songs Featured
Elmer Brown's music from the Troubadours' presentation of "Not Yet, Fleurette" will also be a feature of the evening. William Wyson, chairman of the general committee, is at present negotiating with station WRC, and it is expected that the Prom will be broadcast.

The favors have been decided on by the committee, and although their shape and form will remain a dead secret until Friday night, the committee announces that they are unique and are sure to please everyone. Souvenir programs will also be given.

The sale of tickets is progressing rapidly, and there is every assurance that the Prom will be well attended. Tickets are $5.00 per couple, and may be obtained from the Registrar's Office, Quigley's Pharmacy, Medical School, Spalding's Sport Shop, and from fraternity and sorority representatives.

STUDENT COMMITTEE PLANS POINT SYSTEM

President's Advisory Body to Work Out Scheme for Grading Student Activities

Definite plans for the extra-curricular point system will be drawn up at the next meeting of the President's Student Advisory Committee, to take place within a few days.

On the Wednesday before the holidays the Committee met, and decided that each member should work out a scheme for grading student activities according to the relative importance of each activity. While the women students have a scale which is used as a basis for awarding the Activity Cup, the University as a whole has no such system. Marceline Gray has been appointed to see that the point scale used by the women students will not conflict with the new plan.

In addition to the point system, the question of sending a delegate to the National Student Federation Conference was discussed.

It was decided that a delegate should be selected in the near future. Last year Elizabeth Wiltbank was the delegate.

Dorsey Is Winner In Oratorical Try Out

"John Marshall and the Constitution" Is Subject; Will Speak Finals

Try-outs for the National Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest were held on Wednesday, April 13, in Corcoran Hall 1, with Professor Gilbert Hall presiding. The audience listened with great interest to the excellent orations on the Constitution of the United States and the judges, who were Elmer Louis Kayser, Associate Professor of History and Secretary of the University, George L. Farnham, Assistant Professor of Public Speaking and George L. Arnold of the Law School, voted Harryman Dorsey, winner. His subject was "John Marshall and the Constitution."

On April 29, the semi-finals will be held and Dorsey will compete with contestants from colleges of Maryland, New Jersey, Delaware and Pennsylvania.

Further plans of this contest will be announced later.

DEAN RECOVERING

Howard L. Hodgkins, Dean of the University, is recovering nicely from an operation for a cataract of the eye. The operation was performed at the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital on April 14th.

AUTHOR AND COMPOSER OF MUSICAL COMEDY

Larry Parker, who wrote the book and Elmer Brown who composed the music of "Not Yet, Fleurette," the musical comedy to be presented by the Troubadours next Tuesday in the gym.

CHAMPIONSHIP IS WON BY RIFLERS

G. W. Men's Rifle Team Wins Intercollegiate Honors at New York Meet

SCORE 1394 OUT OF 1500

New York Is Second, Penn State Third; Marks Third Intercollegiate Victory for G. W.

Topping a season of remarkable victories with the indoor-intercollegiate championship the G. W. Men's Rifle team carried off first honors in the meet of April 16 held in New York and retained the title which they won last year.

The competition was an intense one with the City College of New York and Penn State running close second and third to the Colonials. G. W. with a score of 1394 out of a possible 1500 emerged victorious with City College scoring 1391, and Penn State 1389.

The match was held at the Armory of the Seventy-first regiment in New York City, and five other institutions competed, finishing in order: Norwich, Columbia, M. I. T., Boston U. and Drexel.

Defeat West Point

Victory in this important competition is not uncommon for the G. W. team. This year's season, the fourth in this competition, marks the third victory for them, G. W. having won the first, coming second to Columbia in the second, and carrying off the championship in the third and fourth.

Another startling and brilliant victory for the Colonials was the defeat of West Point on April 18. The Military Academy has held the enviable record of only one defeat since their team's existence and G. W.'s victory was the first set back suffered by the Army contingent since 1923.

The battle between the two teams was hot and nerve racking and G. W. carried off honors with the close score of 1305 to 1297.

Riley Makes High Score

In this competition the Colonial team was composed of practically the same men who defeated the seven other schools. The highest individual score of the match was that of Hugh E. Riley, captain of the Colonials, with 231 out of 255. John A. Schrieker also of G. W. scored.

GIRLS GLEE CLUB SINGS AT PETWORTH CHURCH

Soloists and Quartet Give Diversified Program

The Girls Glee Club gave its last concert on April 8 at the Petworth Methodist Church.

Gladys George sang a solo, "Romeo and Juliet." As an encore she sang "The Limit." Evelyn Best rendered "Marcheta" while Helen Humphrey was the third soloist.

A quartet composed of Maxine Alverson, Gladys George, Mary Ewin, and Roberta Harrison sang two groups of songs. The first was composed of the "Big Brown Bear," "That Was All," and "A Little Cottage," "Two Flies" and "The Alphabet" comprised the second group.

The club was ably directed by Miss Estelle Wentworth. The time of its next concert has not been announced.

PRES. LEWIS IS CHAPEL SPEAKER GOOD FRIDAY

President Lewis was the speaker at the chapel on Good Friday. President Lewis declared that the days of Christ's crucifixion and Resurrection were the most significant ones two thousand years ago and remain so today. He read the dramatic story of the crucifixion which marked the beginning of a religion founded on service.

DIONYSIANS GIVE CLASSIC DRAMA

"Britannicus," Racine's Play, Is Presented For First Time In America

BID FOR DRAMATICS CUP

Faculty Assists in Making Dionysians' Offering a Success; Music By Orchestra

The Dionysian dramatic society baited its hook last night for the Phi Delta Gamma loving cup with "Britannicus," the seventeenth century classical drama by Racine, presented for the first time in America, in the Gymnasium Theatre.

The role of Agrippina was taken by Adelaide Dwyer, who is prominent in local dramatic circles. Kermit Girdner took the part of the Emperor Nero, while Britannicus, the rightful heir to the throne, was acted by William Bradley. The other members of the cast were Burrus, J. Eustace Weigle; Narcissus, W. Hall Hopper; Albin, Margaret L. Willis; and Junia, Beulah Ragan.

The plot of the play concerned the struggle between the young Emperor Nero and his domineering mother for control of the Roman Empire. The translation was undertaken by members of the club, who assisted greatly in making the presentation a success.

Faculty Cooperates

Throughout the year the Dionysians have met with members of the faculty for the purpose of getting material to assure that "Britannicus" would be presented in an authentic manner. Those who cooperated with members of the club are Professors Henning, Bolwell, Kayser, Doyle, Croissant, Protzman "Viktor Plambeau," and Miss Catherine S. Brown, dramatic coach. Prof. Paul Gropp and his student orchestra played the overture and also were heard during intermissions.

Kermit Girdner was in charge of the lighting and staging, Betty Halsey the design of costumes, and Ruth C. Winter publicity.

Livingston," by Milledge L. Bonham, Jr.; "John Jay," by Samuel Flagg Bemis, and the second volume includes "Thomas Jefferson," by Dr. Bemis; "Edmond Randolph," by Dice Robins Anderson; "Timothy Pickens," by Henry Jones Ford; and "John Marshall," by Andrew J. SENIOR RINGS MUST BE ORDERED IMMEDIATELY

All seniors desiring class rings are requested to get in touch at once with some member of the Ring Committee so that the orders may be sent in time to receive the ring before graduation. If the orders are not in before the end of the week it is possible that the rings will not arrive until after commencement.

The committee is composed of Elmer Brown, Columbian College; Mary Temple Hill, Teachers College; Henry James, Engineering School, and Irving Marshman, Law School.

G. W. GLEE CLUB SCORES AS STAR OF HOLIDAY BILL

Also Appears In Keith's Midnight N. V. A. Benefit Show Friday

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND HEARD CLUB, IS ESTIMATE

Plan Summer Tour of Principal Eastern Cities For Group of Twenty-five Men

A great reception greeted the Glee Club in its concert at the Earle last week and the talent displayed aroused the praise of the local critics. The program was full of pep from start to finish and showed the results of the rigorous choral training that the club has received this season.

Probably the best number was the chorus from "Miserere." Equally well received, however, were the popular numbers, "Jolly Roger," "High, High, Up In the Hills," "The Merry Frogs," and the dance act to the tunes of "Clap Your Hands" and "Black Bottom." This super-Charleston and black bottom quintet led by the club manager, Henry Klinge, was full of pep from start to finish. The dancers appeared in grass skirts and derbies, with Klinge wearing a black wig instead of the carrot-topped wig of last year's act, was always the signal for a storm of applause.

Soloists Score

Miss Juanita Froehlich, soprano soloist and H. C. Sonntag, tenor soloist in the "Miserere" did very creditably. Thursday Miss Froehlich was unable to sing due to illness and the club was fortunate in obtaining Miss Elvina Rowe, soprano soloist of the Mount Vernon M. E. Church South to sing the soprano solo. As Miss Froehlich did not improve Miss Rowe completed the program for the balance of the week. Her unusually good and well-trained voice won the instant approval of the glee club men and the audience alike.

Mrs. Robert Harmon sang an interpretation of a child's dislike for arithmetic problems, the entire club joining in the chorus. As last year, her number scored a hit.

The boys' genuine laughter in the "Laughing Song" was contagious and always called for an encore which took the form of that stirring George Washington University song "O'er The Swift Potomac Waters."

A special feature of Saturday's appearances was the University Four Quartet singing "Dried Apple Pie," a song with a laugh in every line and a roar at the end. This quartet is composed of Washington Irving Cleveland, bass; Robert Harmon, baritone; James Ewin, second tenor, and H. C. Sonntag, first tenor. Their harmony was perfect and made this number vie in popularity with the dance numbers.

Club Sings at Keiths

Last week being National Vaudeville Artist's Week, and set aside as benefit week for that organization, which cares for the sick and convalescent vaudeville artists, the Glee Club contributed its act to the program given at the midnight show at Keith's Friday. Even among these star acts the applause given their act was deafening. The week was a record week in more ways than one. In addition to headlining the Earle Bill, where they sang at twenty-one performances, the entire club gave three other concerts, one at President Lewis' reception at the University Club and the other two at the Raleigh Hotel and the Masonic Temple. This record of twenty-five concerts in one week is indicative of the self-sacrificing spirit of the boys and shows that George Washington University is receiving more advertising through the medium of the men's glee club than through any other single activity on the campus. It is estimated that one hundred thousand people have heard the club sing in the last ten days.

Summer Tour of East Planned

Negotiations are now being made for a summer tour of the principal eastern cities, the first on the itinerary being Baltimore. It is expected that twenty-five men will go on the tour and that it will be of from six to ten weeks' duration.

MUSICAL COMEDY OF TROUBADOURS OPENS TUESDAY

"Not Yet, Fleurette" To Be Presented at Gym Theatre May 3, 4, 5

SONGS ARE PUBLISHED; TO BE PLACED ON SALE

Chorus of Thirty Girls Selected By Miss Leckie; Seats Selling Fast

When Fleurette makes her opening bow in the musical comedy bearing her name next Tuesday in the Gymnasium, George Washington University students and their friends will have an opportunity of witnessing the second attempt of the Troubadours to present an attraction with original music and book.

The play opens in a quaint old wine shop in the Latin Quarter of Paris and from then on the action is swift and colorful, with songs that will linger on in one's mind. The dance steps of the principals and choruses are clever and intriguing, according to those who have seen them.

Four of the songs are now being published by a Philadelphia concern and will be on sale at all performances. They are "Cottage of Dreams," "Good-bye," "What If," and "Golden Hours," and they will be played at the Junior Prom Friday night. The proofs of the songs have been received and attractive covers have been designed, featuring a serenading troubadour.

Chorus Announced

The chorus has been announced by Mary Virginia Leckie. The girls are Helen Taylor, Virginia Buell, Abbie Burke, Margaret Beasley, Elsie Talbert, Betty Brandenburger, Elizabeth Waller, Vivian Ward, Trink Berry, Elizabeth Carson, Margaret Moreland, Jeanne Miles, Julia Denning, Mary Lewis Beard, Jane Blackstone, Peggy Eckels, Margaret Hall, Mary Cecilia Horn, Margaret Hoover, Hermione John, Catherine Magill, Verna Parsons, Dorothy Schenken, Janet Smith, Emily Pilkinton, Chick Martin, Winnie Beall, Virginia Lattner and Winnie White.

The latest report is that over 800 seats have been sold for the shows, and it is urged that the seats be procured as soon as possible, as the best ones are rapidly going. Many of the fraternities and organizations are buying blocks of seats. Arrangements may be made to do this by getting in touch with Mary Virginia Leckie, Larry Parker, Elmer Brown, or any member of the cast.

DR. RESSER TO DIRECT UNIQUE TOUR OF U. S.

Will Include Daily Lectures by Scientists on Points of Geological Interest

Something new in the way of a "personally conducted tour" is promised for the coming tour of the United States, to be directed by Dr. Charles Resser, Assistant Professor of Geography and Geology here at the University.

In addition to the well-known points of interest, places somewhat off the usual tourist routes will be visited. A geographical survey of the country will be made, and daily lectures on geography, geology and natural history will be given by scientists and teachers.

Pike's Peak, the Garden of the Gods, the Great Salt Lake, Timpanogos Cave, the Yosemite and Yellowstone national parks, lava fields, Mount Rainier and the Grand Canyon are some of the famous sights included in the tour.

In order to precede the larger crowds and to have the parks in good condition the tour will start as early as possible, probably on June 23. It will cover thirty-four days. The minimum rate is $589.50; the maximum is $610.00.

Inquiries for further information should be addressed to Dr. Charles Resser, Room 308, National Museum, Washington, D. C.

CONCERNING JUNIOR PROMS

Friday night the Junior Prom will take place at the Hotel Washington. This fact is significant not only because it will be one of the outstanding social events of the year, but because the success of this year's Prom will determine whether it will be held in future years. In other schools the Junior Prom is an indispensable part of school life—it is one institution which all schools have in common. In past year the Prom at G. W. has often suffered from financial shortages; if such is the case Friday night it will not be held next year. Surely this event is one deserving the support of all of us—not only Juniors, but students of all classes in all schools of the University. Already the time honored tradition of an elaborate Junior Week has gone into the discard and the Prom may follow. Striking this event from the University Social Calendar would leave a gap we would find it hard to fill.

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING

The Women's Advisory Council Committee on Student Government has submitted its recommendations for the formation and work of the proposed Women's League here. The object seems to be to divorce, so far as it is possible, all women's interests and their governing from those of men.

The proposition seems to us to be foredoomed to failure for three reasons.

In the first place, the initiative in any student government movement should come from the students themselves, or at least must come as the result of a definite need and demand in the student body. This proposition originated in the faculty, and comes to satisfy no need whatever. The fact that it has not the interest or support of the women students is amply demonstrated by the fact that at the "mass meeting" to discuss the subject, only 147 women were present. Student government of the many by the few would inevitably be the result if this group were given any power.

Second, the most powerful reason for this lack of interest lies in the fact that the women of the University are not going to support any movement proposing to establish a government for women separate from that for men. We do not need or want a feminist movement here. Women who compete on equal terms with men in student activities do not wish to have "women's activities" treated as a separate category.

Third, there has been no power given it nor is there likely to be, beyond that of a purely advisory and discussion body. They propose to establish a "point system" for women's activities. The object is unknown. They wish to have the power of "certifying the eligibility for candidates for positions." We have a competent Registrar's Office which has already undertaken that work. Why have a separate system for certifying the eligibility of men and women candidates for the same office? They propose to establish a "Little Sister Movement" which has already been in progress for two years, to "consider" the question of an honor system which has already been turned down by popular vote of the students, and other equally useless functions.

An organization of all students, men and women, for the purpose of student government, with the definite sanction of the faculty, and with its powers assigned it, would receive the hearty support of the Hatchet and, we believe, of the student body. The proposed organization, without powers from the administration or support from the mass of women students, seems to us to be "much ado about nothing."

WITH the Easter holidays over, everyone is feeling good or otherwise for school work and activities which will have to compensate for the host of parties, teas and dances so prevalent last week.

The S. A. E. tea dance given last week for all fraternity men and women on the campus, proved a jolly affair. The chapter house was crowded to its capacity with George Washington couples and stags.

The Phi Mu's gave an informal dance at the Capitol Yacht Club last night.

The pledges of Pi Beta Phi sorority gave a subscription tea dance in Corcoran Hall a week ago, Monday. The proceeds from the affair went to the sorority settlement house in Kentucky.

Marguerite Daly and Mark Miller, of New Haven and Washington, were married at St. Mathews' a week ago last Saturday. The wedding was followed by a reception at the home of the bride on N Street. The young couple left about 3:30 the same afternoon for their honeymoon. They will be at home to their friends at the Ambassador, Hartford, Conn., next month. The groom is a graduate of Georgetown University and Marguerite, who has been one of the outstanding girls on the G. W. campus for several years, graduated from the university in 1925 and has since been doing graduate work.

Phi Sigma Sigma held its formal initiation at the New Hamilton Hotel on Saturday, April 9th. Following the initiation, a banquet was given in honor of the initiates. The new members are: Flora Alpert, Frieda Barsky, Dora Goldener, Myrtle Kaminsky, Margaret Oxenburgh, Mildred Oxenburgh and Blanche Reinhardt.

The Sigma Nu's gave their formal dinner dance of the year at the Mayflower Hotel on the night of April 15. About fifty members and guests attended.

Well, the Junior Prom is not far off. It comes off April 29 in the Hall of Nations Ballroom at the Hotel Washington.

Among the George Washington people who attended the Constitutional Club Ball at the Carlton Hotel last Monday night were Ruth Newburn, Myrtle Posey, Ruth Greenwood, Roberta Harrison, Mary Clark and several co-eds from the K. D. house.

Julia Denning and Betty Brandenburg spent the holidays in New York visiting Betsy Booth.

Hattie Wise and Helen Perriam visited here last week and were entertained by their Chi Omega sisters with several parties.

Marion Meredith spent the Easter holidays in Washington, visiting old G. W. U. friends.

Evelyn Best spent the week-end visiting in Harrisburg, Pa.

A quite novel party was given by Alpha Delta Theta during the holidays, in the form of a Night Club dance at the home of Virginia Mitchell. An Apache Specialty Dance and unique favors made the evening a very enjoyable one.

Mary Temple Hill and Vivian Bane gave a bridge shower in honor of Frances Davis who is soon to be married to Ensign Oliver Naquine, at the home of Mary Temple Hill last Saturday afternoon. A tea was given after the bridge party.

Following the successful performance of "Caesar and Cleopatra," the Mimes have since been occupied in a social way. The Saturday night after the play, Lonnelle Davison gave a dance at her home and on the following Friday the same bunch gathered at the home of Kenneth Years.

Those present were Lonnelle Davison, Ann Wrightson, Marian Barker, Mary Griffith, Alpha Booth, Wilford Edling, Arthur Davis, Ed Moulton, Kenneth Years, Foster Hagan, William Parsons.

The formal Easter dance of Phi Sigma Kappa, held at the chapter house, Wednesday, April 26, was their most successful of the season. Representatives of the other fraternities and of all sororities on the campus were entertained as guests. Decorations were in buff and blue. The artistic arrangement of apple blossoms and roses, together with the novel lighting effect added much to the attraction of the occasion. The orchestra, with Elmer Brown at the piano, featured the already popular and favored selection from the Troubadours' musical comedy "No No, Flanquette," "My Cottage of Dreams." During intermission Miss Billy Wright entertained by singing this and another song from the musical comedy. Carl Sonntag and Anabelle Lloyd sang solos from last year's musical comedy, "Just a Kiss."

The Washington Alumni chapter of Delta Zeta gave a tea last Wednesday at the Thomas Circle Club in honor of Mrs. Justus R. Freidline, national president of the sorority, who was in Washington for the D. A. R. convention.

The Delta Zetas entertained their inspecting officer, Mrs. Justus R. Freidline, at lunch Wednesday in the chapter rooms. Mrs. Freidline is the national president of the sorority.

The Motion Picture

By JOHN MILLIGAN

Periodically every six or seven months since Aeschylus produced his first edition of the "Acropolis Antic" somebody has denounced the low state of the theatre. In ancient Rome the togaed critics intimated that the present slaughters in the Coliseum were far inferior to the lovely massacres in good old Fabius Halitosis' time because the moving pictures were slowly strangling the legitimate theatre. While Queen Bess was still in love with Lord Leicester, Ben Johnson took her aside one day and allowed that the Blackfriars and the Globe would soon come to a sad end if Jesse Lasky and William Fox were not immediately marched to the Tower.

A little later I remember well the luncheon with the Duke of Buckingham at which he said to me that his chances for satirizing every playwright but himself were growing slimmer because Charles II was subsidized by Metro-Goldwyn. And today every writer but the picture press agents shouts that the "movie octopus" is killing other forms of amusement.

Boiled down, what does all this agitation mean? It means that these charges are correct! The organized film concerns HAVE stifled stock companies, carnivals and amateur players in small towns, and are tightening their grip on the show business in the metropolis itself.

But don't worry. As Becky Sharp says, the theatre is quite liable to go on. The straws in the wind at present point to a gigantic panic in the future—the films are becoming top-heavy with their own weight—the rush to erect more and more mammoth houses to show the junk from the average studio is going to mean a slight flop later. But the theatre will stay. It always has, but it is about time that it became disassociated from the films. They are two different kinds of art and should be treated as such.

When we speak of art in the theaters we mean a tiny minority of plays and authors and producers. When we consider the movies we should do the same thing. They are entirely distinct mediums, and if critics denounce the heavy-handed stamp of the films over the other art, what solutions have they offered to the problems?

It is peculiar that the solution has come from within the film business, and not from the play business. It is to produce good movies, gradually bringing forth while films to the notice of intelligent people, thereby placing the films on a par with the legitimate artistically, and showing up the dreadful stuff ladled out by the cinema palaces. Thus we have rebellion within the ranks—during the few years that the octopus will have the ascendancy in the small towns the insidious influence of the little film theatre, as evidenced by the Fifth Avenue Playhouse, Fifty-fifth Street Cinema Cameo and one other in New York, our own Little Theatre, and the others building all over the country, will be working a renaissance in the films. The octopus will not be killed. Far from it. But this impudence is already having an effect. If there must be movies, let us have occasional good ones—and give the theatre and our native talent time to dope out the legitimate situation.

As a matter of fact, the amusing thing about the yells and boos is that the theatre in America today is ten times superior to the theater of any other period. However, there has been evidence of dirty work by the Zukors. In the meantime, the vast majority of our fellow citizens will be much edified by the spectacle of Vilma Banky in the arms of Ronald Colman. That is what they want—let them have it. But for us there is such a thing as beauty and color and fancy. While the theater is recovering let us help the affair with the presentation of better movies.

"Speaking of fine tobaccos —Have a Camel!"

MODERN smokers find in Camels a nicety of blending, a friendly cordiality of flavor, an inherent goodness that thrills from the first puff to the last. That is why Camels are the favorite of the present age. The warmth of golden sunlight or autumn fields gleams in their smoke. Camels are the modern expression of all that is the finest.

Camel quality and Camel excellence are recognized wherever modern smokers gather. Particular smokers in this hard-to-please age find the best of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos blended in this famous cigarette. They find a consistent goodness that never fails, no matter how liberal the smoking.

And wherever modern smokers gather, wherever the conversation turns to tobacco, to the world's best, someone is sure to say: "Speaking of fine tobaccos . . . —Have a Camel!"

FRESHMEN TAKE FIRST PLACE IN INTERCLASS RUN

Theta Delta Chi and Kappa Delta Win Greek Relay Races

BAKER AND CATE ARE INDIVIDUAL CHAMPIONS

Five Men's and One Women's Records Fall, One Tied, In Intramural Meet

By a comfortable margin of 14 1/2 points, freshman athletes won the Fourth Annual Interclass Track and Field Meet, held in the Central High School Stadium on April 16, under the auspices of the G. W. Club, and as a consequence, were awarded the Louis A. Fischer Memorial trophy.

The frosh collected 67 points during the course of the afternoon, being followed by the juniors with 52 1/2 points, the sophomores with 43, the seniors with 20, and the graduate school with 15 1/2.

Wilbur Baker, freshman, finished first in each of four track events, and by virtue of the 20 points thus earned took the men's individual point trophy donated by Thomas F. Proby, varsity track coach. Two frosh and a second place, totaling 13 points, gave the women's individual point trophy, donated by the Women's G. W. Club, to Leah Cate, sophomore. The trophy now becomes the permanent possession of Leah Cate, who also won the cup in 1925 and 1926.

Theta Delta Chi won the feature event of the day for the men, the Interfraternity Relay Race, receiving the Interfraternity Relay cup, offered by Coach H. Watson Crum. The Inter-scholastic Relay cup, given by the Pan-Hellenic Association, went to Kappa Delta, the winner of the women's feature event.

Colonial Mittmen to Meet Gallaudet Thursday Afternoon at Kendall Green

By KING PRENDER

Varsity baseball will be officially resumed as a major sport at George Washington University when the Colonial mittmen open their season in a tilt with Gallaudet tomorrow afternoon at Kendall Green.

The national game was an annual institution here until the season of 1925 when it was discontinued by a ruling of the Athletic Committee. During the lay-off of inter-collegiate competition a plan was adopted whereby teams from Columbian College, the Engineering School, and the Law School composed a league.

During 1926 athletics proved exceedingly popular at the University. More material of real worth has been uncovered recently than at any other time in the history of the institution. To these factors coupled with the assistance of Coach Crum, Athletic

HOPKINS SOPHS PLAN "AID" TO PAY-FOR RIOT

BALTIMORE—Sophomores at Johns Hopkins plan to hold an "Annapolis Benefit Party" to pay for the expenses of the little "riot" between freshmen and sophomores at a class banquet in Annapolis recently.

The Class of '29 paid eleven $23.50 fines for its members, and has decided to pay all hospital bills also, though it cuts deeply into its surplus, accumulated to help out in the senior year. A new fire hose may also be bought for one of the dormitories, to replace one taken away by the Annapolis police force, if it is not returned.

The class was unanimous in the opinion that the trouble was caused more by actions of the police than by the students.

Return Match With Cavaliers to Be Played May 10 at Columbia Country Club

Collegiate golfers of the University of Pennsylvania sallied on the links of the Columbia Country Club last Wednesday, and scored a victory over the George Washington Varsity team. The score was 4 to 2.

The Red and Blue squad, which included Rodney Cottant, champion of the University of Pennsylvania, and the experienced Dan Merritt, last year's captain, have been on a southern trip during the past week, and have defeated both V. M. I. and Washington and Lee.

The course was in fine shape, although playing the back tees made the holes longer and more difficult. Merritt, who is the No. 1 man on Penn's outfit, beat Capt. Cole of G. W. 3 and 2 in the first foursome.

The outstanding feature of the match was the defeat of Capt. Morrow of Penn. by Danner of G. W. one of the strongest supporters of the team. The match was won with a score of 7 and 6. This gave George Washington a victory in the first match with the best ball 1 up.

In the second foursome Kelly of Penn. beat Bob Grove 5 and 5, while Cottant defeated Thrasher 7 and 6, giving Penn the best ball 7 and 6.

The next scheduled match is with the University of Virginia on May 10, at the Columbia Country Club. This is a return match and G. W. is whetting its golfing appetite for this match, as it was handed a defeat at Virginia's hands several weeks ago.

DARTMOUTH TEAM WILL INVADE NORTHWESTERN

EVANSTON—Dartmouth will send a football team to Northwestern in 1928, the Daily Northwestern announces. Whether or not it will fulfill a home-to-home agreement the following year has not yet been decided. Athletic Director "Tug" Wilson has also indicated that a two-year agreement with Harvard is under consideration. The unwillingness of Harvard to come West has been an obstacle, but the Crimson may sign such a contract this spring.

The Purple expects to have the biggest card in its history in 1928 if the Harvard game goes through. At that time the school will have facilities for 75,000 persons, which should be the size of the gate for the Dartmouth game.

MAY CURB HAZING AT OHIO STATE, IS RUMOR

COLUMBUS—Rumors persist that administrative action will be taken at Ohio State University to curb hazing of freshmen.

Concerted opposition to the practice of hazing has grown since the near-riot between freshmen, members of Bucket and Dipper, junior honorary organization, other students, and police.

Restriction of hazing is favored by many faculty members. Parents of freshmen who were ducked in the Mirror Lake have made protests to the university.

Students were divided in opinion on hazing, although most of them seemed to favor the practice.

CO-ED ATHLETES SCORE AT MEET

Winner of Last Year's Trophy Captures Second Leg On Cup

EVENTS HOTLY CONTESTED

Kappa Delta Wins Sorority Relay With Phi Mu Second and Chi Omega Third

The daily practices of Women's Track culminated Saturday a week ago at Central High Stadium in the Fourth Annual Track and Field Meet, with Leah Cate walking off with the women's high point cup for the third time.

In addition to dashes and other running events, the women competed as they did last year in the discus throw, shot put, and broad and high jumps.

Jimmy Cate proved to be the women's star athlete. She was the co-ed high point winner for the third consecutive year. Two years ago the women's G. W. Club gave an individual cup which is held by her. This year she wins a second leg on a three year cup given by the same organization. Besides Jimmy Cate, Alys Ewers showed up well in the dashes. Naomi Crumley, a freshman, was the star of the discus throw, while the shot put was won by Mary Ewin.

The sorority "goats" who have been practicing diligently for the past three weeks showed excellent form. The Sorority Relay cup, however, was won by Kappa Delta, boasting Jimmy Cate and Alys Ewers. Phi Mu walked off with second place and Chi Omega finished third.

Kappa Delta Gets Second Leg on Cup by Defeating Sigma Kappa

PI PHIS TAKE THIRD PLACE

Sorority Must Win Three Times Before Cup Can Be Retained Permanently

Kappa Delta won the bowling tournament for the second successive year, defeating Sigma Kappa, runner-up, by a safe margin of fifty-three pins.

Phi Beta Phi captured third place, being about the same number of pins behind the second-place Sigma Kappa team.

Competition was close from the beginning, although many of the scores of the girls were not nearly so high as they had been in practice games.

Cecyle Taylor, of Kappa Delta, had high game of the tournament, rolling 100, while Billie Wright, of Sigma Kappa, followed close on her heels with a 98, the second highest score.

Lucille Matthews of Kappa Delta had high set of 263; Cecyle Taylor of Kappa Delta-second high set of 260; and Frances Walker of Sigma Kappa third high set of 258. These three girls were probably the most consistent bowlers of the tournament, averaging nearly a 90 each.

K. D. Averages 83

The Kappa Deltas averaged 83 for each girl, while the Sigma Kappas came through with an 80 average per girl. Phi Beta Phis were three behind with 77.

A cup will be presented to Kappa Delta at the Pan-Hellenic Prom on May 2. The first sorority to win three legs on the cup will be given it as a permanent possession.

The following are the final results of the tournament: Kappa Delta, 1252; Sigma Kappa, 1199; Phi Beta Phi, 1151; Alpha Delta Pi, 1126; Chi Omega, 1108; Zeta Tau Alpha, 1071; Delta Zeta, 1025; Phi Mu, 939; Gamma Beta Pi, default; and Alpha Sigma Theta, default.

Great Variety of Unofficial Events Occur at Field Meet

Reporter Sees Runners Entangled With Finish Tape—Starter Wastes Box of Ammunition on Interfraternity and Intersorority Relay Races

By HERBERT E. ANGEL

Many things that were not officially down on the program happened at the Fourth Annual Interclass Track and Field Meet several Saturdays ago. Perhaps the most amusing occurrence to the small crowd which gathered in the stands near the finish line, and persistently clung there despite the warm sun and the equally uncomfortable rain, which alternated in making things interesting for the spectators, happened at the end of the first heat of the 100-yard dash.

The judges of the finish were given a ball of heavy twine, and were told to construct the finish line with it. Either in order to save cord, or to save time, one end of the line was tied securely to the post, and the other end, attached to the ball, was loosely wound around the opposite post. When the runners thundered down the track, and breasted the tape, the tape refused to break, but was carried along with them instead. Consequently, before the runners could stop, they, the judges of the finish, and the cord were all entangled in a great snarl, which required several moments to unravel.

The crowd was afforded several other chances to chuckle during the track events. After Wilbur Baker had won his third consecutive first place, those in the stands decided that he had finished running for the day. Instead, he immediately entered the 880-yard run. One spectator failed to see him start his fourth race, and as Baker crossed the finish line for his fourth victory, the astonished watcher ejaculated, "What! Is that guy running again? Say, what does he think he is, a horse?"

Co-ed Nearly Faints

A little later, Leah Cate, after winning first in two events, was beaten out of another first by a scant six inches in the 75-yard run. "Gawah," gasped a co-ed, dropping her compact, "she didn't win first. Catch me, somebody, I'm going to faint."

Horace Domigan, cross-country runner and taxi driver extraordinary, had an easy time of it in the two-mile run, and amused himself by conversing with the judges as he passed on successive laps. He evidently felt exuberant at the end of the third lap, for as he trotted by, he whisked the hat off the head of the judge who called, "Five more laps to go." Farther around, he MINNEAPOLIS—Students of the University of Minnesota will probably take over the trial of student misdeemeanors, if the plans of Dean E. E. Nicholson are carried out. The All-University council will probably take over this work, acting in conjunction with members of the administration.

Details must still be worked out, since the students do not wish to undertake the responsibility for the plan, until certain changes in student government machinery are made.

MEDICAL ALUMNI WILL ASSOCIATE

Plans Made by Committee of Physicians For Permanent
Alumni Association

TO HOLD CLASS REUNION

May 18 Date Selected Because American Medical Association
Convention Here Then

The hopes of the many graduates of the George Washington University Medical School for a permanent alumni association are now to be realized as a result of the steps being taken by the following committee of Washington physicians: Boyce R. Bolton, F. A. Hornaday, William J. Mallory, Helen Gladys Kain, John A. Reed, C. N. Chipman.

As announced last week, the alumni of the Medical School of George Washington will hold a banquet and class reunion at the City Club on May 18. That time has been selected because the American Medical Association will hold its annual convention in Washington the week of May 15.

This is the first time the American Medical Association has had its meeting here since 1833.

Invitations Sent

There are various features planned for the banquet, including an arrangement of the tables in which the classes will be seated together.

The George Washington University Glee Club will feature, and there will be an orchestra and speakers, together with other entertainment, planned.

Invitations have gone out to over a thousand graduates all over the world as well as to the senior class, and a very hearty response has been offered on every hand with words of approval for the plan of organization of the permanent Alumni Association.

The local alumni are urged to send in their replies as soon as possible to Doctor C. M. Chipman, 1420 Rhode Island Avenue, N. W., so that the plans for the seating arrangement may be carried out.

N. Y. EVENING POST TO GIVE SEVERAL PRIZES

Will Publish Winning Articles on
So-Called "Wave of Mental Depression"

NEW YORK—What the student believes to be responsible for the so-called "wave" of mental depression in our colleges and schools was revealed today when the New York Evening Post began printing a series of prize-winning articles from college men and women in answer to the question, "Has the American undergraduate a post-war neurosis?"

"In all the articles selected for publication," says the Evening Post, "it is apparent that our offer has led the student to put into words what he has had in mind for some time. The views expressed here, and in succeeding articles, are bred of mature thought. Educators and parents would do well to give them serious attention."

World War Cited As Cause

Some of the causes to which students attribute the melancholy state of their fellow undergraduates are summarized as "moral laxity hastened by the World War," "lack of understanding between parents and children," "the American undergraduate has seen too much of life, has lived too quickly, has grown old too soon," "youth has attempted to dig beneath the surface in order to get more life than his ancestors."

In more than one instance the shattering of religious convictions is given as the reason. "Students no longer believe in God," says one letter. "Science has destroyed for us the comfortable world of a Heaven and a Hell," is another explanation. "The student is not suffering from a post-war neurosis but from a worn-out creed of allegiance I was commanded to believe," writes a third undergraduate.

For each article published, The Evening Post makes an award of $10 and for the best article, a prize of $100 will be given. The winner of the $100, however, will not be announced until all articles under consideration have appeared.

Will Durant has joined that group of writers who make Cosmopolitan the most alert magazine in America. How deeply he has thought out the subject he writes of is shown by these questions:

"What happens to the famous 'first law of nature' in these instances? What impulse is it that is so strong that all the instincts, all the hunger for possession and love and power crumble at its coming? How can the will to live lose its omnipotence when the body is still young, and the blood courses freshly through full veins?"

And his answer is so coldly logical, that it is sensational by virtue of its simplicity.

Held at Syracuse April

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—(By New Student Service).—Polish delegates in plus fours will plot darkly with British diplomats who speak with surprisingly Yankee dialects. Chinese representatives with unbelievably occidental features will shake their fists at British and American statesmen and Latin Americans will discuss the menace of Yankee imperialism in collegiate slang.

These anomalous discussions will take place at the miniature League of Nations Assembly of Northern New York College students at the University of Syracuse. The Syracuse School of Citizenship and Public Affairs has initiated this novel scheme and already the invitations to attend have gone out to various colleges.

In some cases the countries will be represented by nationals of that country, but it is planned to get as many Americans to participate in the work as possible.

The Assembly will meet for two days on April 29-30. At one of the meetings Sir George Foster, who represented Canada in the League of Nations will speak on Canada, the United States and League of Nations. Among the items in the agenda is a Conference for the Reduction and Limitation of Armaments, also a Consideration of the present situation in Central America.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE
PROPOSED HEREStudent Government Body Is Discussed at Freshman
Chapel; Report MadeOTHER COLLEGES STUDIED
Honor System and Point System for Activities are Among Suggestions
Made

Student Government was the chief issue under discussion at the last Freshman chapel for women, held on Tuesday, April 12, under the supervision of Miss Jones, the assistant to Dean Rose. Miss Jones submitted the following report resulted from the investigation of the Women's Advisory Council Committee on Student Government at George Washington:

(1) A Women's League can be formed independent of a similar organization for men. In the several co-educational institutions which the committee has studied there are separate governing bodies for men and women.

(2) The membership of such a league should consist of all women students who are taking nine hours' work at the University.

(3) The League should have an elected council made up of representatives of the following organizations: Dramatics, Athletics, Publications, Y. W. C. A., Hour Glass, Debate, Glee Club, Panhellenic and the non-resident groups. There should also be representatives from the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes of Columbian College and Teachers' College, as these classes have similar interests.

(4) The work of this council would be:

a. To certify a candidate's eligibility for offices before election or appointment.

b. To organize the Little Sister Movement and generally promote the well-being of Freshmen and out-of-town students.

c. To adopt housing regulations for non-resident students living in approved houses.

d. To make social regulations for women students.

e. To keep a calendar of all events in which women are participants, thereby remedying the present system of conflicting college events.

f. To keep abreast with student movements in the Universities of the country with the purpose of cooperating with the faculty and with the belief that the faculty will accept any contributions that such an organization will be able to make.

Honor System to Be Considered
g. To consider an Honor System in order to be prepared with practical suggestions, when the men will join with the women in a desire for an Honor System.

h. To make a point system for all recognized school activities, so that the load of extra-curricular activities to be carried by any one student, shall not be too heavy.

This work is only suggested. The committee realizes that if such a league be formed, the thought should be carried in mind that such a league would be worse than useless unless it had the power to enforce its rules.

Such a league should have for its purposes the "distribution of class duties and the honors of college life in order to promote efficiency in that activity and group consciousness in a larger number of University women."

The committee which compiled this report, consists of Mary Lewis Beard, Helen Dix, Marceline Gray, Elsie Talbert and Elizabeth Wiltbank, chairman, was appointed by Dean Rose. The new members which have been chosen to serve on the constitutional committee are Margaret Maize, Patty Ann Jamison, Edwina Berry and Mildred Volandt Thomas.

At the mass meeting to vote on Student Government for Women, of the votes cast, 144 were in favor of such an organization, and three were against it.

All women students are urged to be present at the mass meeting to be held for women students on May 9 in Corcoran Hall 1, at 8:00 p. m. The meeting will be turned into an open forum for the discussion of student government, after which a vote will be taken on the proposed plan.

LANGUAGE STUDENTS GET USE OF FRAT HOUSE

BOULDER, Colo.—French and Spanish students will be loaned the Delta Tau Delta house at the University of Colorado for the summer quarter this coming summer. The language students will be accommodated without confusion, each group being furnished with French-speaking and Spanish-speaking waiters, respectively.

Only women will be admitted to the house, although men will be accommodated at the tables.

A number of trips and excursions have been planned in order to give variety to the summer's work.

The experiment is being conducted under the supervision of the Romance language professors.

SEALED BID SYSTEM IS PLANNED AT PENN STATE

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—Fraternalities at Penn State will henceforth bid according to a sealed bid system, and bids may not be made until one week after rushing season opens, if the rules proposed by the Interfraternity Council are adopted by all fraternities.

Freshmen may not be entertained by fraternities before the rushing season starts, according to the rules. Once the bids are sent through the mails, open season may be resorted to.

Movies, lunches, meals at hotels or restaurants, out-of-town parties, or auto rides are not considered as "entertainment" under the rules.
